Missing man found shot on Reserve: Suicide

A 79-year-old White Rock resident missing from his home since Tuesday was found shot to death on Semiahmoo Indian Reserve Wednesday afternoon.

The body of Charles Freeman was found at about 3 p.m. Wednesday afternoon by James Dolan, a resident on the reserve. Police say Freeman committed suicide. A 22 calibre rifle was found near the man's body. There was no indication of foul play.

Freeman was found minutes before a police tracking dog arrived from Cloverdale to aid in the search.

White Rock RCMP could find no trace of the aged resident after he was reported missing by his landlady, Mrs. Edith Collins, of 15311 Victoria Avenue.

Mrs. Collins spent most of Tuesday in Vancouver and when she returned home Freeman was missing.

Freeman had returned to White Rock recently from Prince George. He made his home here during the winter months.

Freeman suffered a stroke some months ago and was believed in a weakened physical and mental condition.

Surrey RCMP are investigating the death.

Police announced Freeman's body had been found Thursday morning, after his next of kin had been notified.

Police are also searching for another White Rock man who has been missing since last Friday.

William Wickholm, 50, of 1578 Kerfoot Road, is believed driven ing a 1957 yellow Pontiac, B.C. licence plate 261-517.

He is employed by a Surrey excavating firm who told police they have seen no trace of the man since last Friday.

Wickholm is described at 5 feet 11 inches tall and weighs about 170 pounds. He has blue eyes and brown hair and was last seen wearing a khaki shirt and khaki pants.

Curlers will finalize executive on Sept. 10

Finalization of the incoming executive for the 1959-60 season will be carried out at the next meeting of White Rock Curling Club to be held on Thursday, September 10 at 8 p.m. at the Silver Moon.

Tony Folk, rink manager, reports curling entries are being received very quickly. Monday night is already half full and Tuesday has only two vacancies.

Folk reports entries for the ladies curling Wednesday nights is rather slow as White Rock ladies indicate they would sooner curl in the afternoon. Any ladies wishing to curl at night are asked to phone Mr. Anderson at WI 8-0649 or Mr. Folk at WI 8-0797.

Unless this league gets the required six teams for the evening Wednesday nights will be turned over to another league, Folk said.

Service club curling will be held on Thursday nights. Friday evening is also half full.

Giant sun flower grown in city

A giant sun flower has been grown by Mr. J. W. Clark of Washington Avenue.

Mr. Clark reports the flower, the largest reported here this year, is 19 inches across and 50 inches in diameter.

Weekend curling on Saturdays and Sundays is just starting to show signs of life, the manager reports.

Both Monday and Wednesday afternoons are full, with seniors, he added. It is expected that at least one more afternoon will be filled with league.

The ladies now have three teams for Tuesday afternoons and that league will definitely be filled to capacity, Folk said. Folk reminds curlers that the opening of the season is quickly approaching and anyone wishing to curl should call the manager or league chairman immediately.

Here are the league chairmen:

Monday, Mr. Saunders, WI 8-0871; Tuesday, Tony Folk, WI 8-0797; Wednesday, Mrs. Anderson, WI 8-0649; Thursday, O. Clarke, WI 8-9945; Friday, Mr. Cuthbert, WI 8-9991; Saturday, Len Long, WI 8-9105; Sunday, Mr. McQuiston, WI 8-9469; Ladies afternoon, Kay Hogg, WI 8-9333; Senators, Mr. Grant, WI 8-4771.

FOE Auxiliary to aid B.C. Boys Town

Ladies Auxiliary to the FOE 3193 are co-sponsoring a smorgasbord and dance at the Panorama Ridge Country Club on King George Highway at Woodward's Hill on Friday, Sept. 4, from 8 p.m. to 12 midnight.

All proceeds will be donated to Boys Town project at Hope. The FOE Auxiliary will aid Boys Town as one of its main projects this year.

Medical quackery topic of city Rotary speaker

What is a medical quack and why does he flourish?

This question was answered Tuesday by Dr. Louis Biro in addressing the White Rock Rotary Club luncheon at the Silver Moon.

"A quack is anyone who claims he can do something that has taken other men years to learn," Dr. Biro said.

"Quackery flourishes in the medical profession because the human being is still looking for a magic pill that will cure all ills, he said."

"What one wishes to think is always more welcome than knowing the truth," Dr. Biro reminded his listeners.

Cancer, arthritis and rheumatic ailments are the main diseases that quacks indulge in, he added.

Quacks claim cures in these diseases but the medical profession does not yet know of a cure.

School opens on Tuesday

White Rock and Surrey school pupils will return to classes on Tuesday, September 8.

A. L. Martin, principal of Semiahmoo High, said all students are expected back Tuesday despite a rumour that school does not open until Wednesday, Sept. 9.

Students are asked to assemble at 9 a.m. to receive their textbooks and lockers.

All elementary and junior high schools in the district also open Tuesday.

Local bowlers still in tourney

Two White Rock bowlers from Idle Hour Alley were still in the race at press time Wednesday for top positions in the Five-Pin Tournament presently underway at the Pacific National Exhibition.

Charlie McLaren and Gerry Douglas were both scheduled to bowl Wednesday in the second round of the tournament.

Four White Rock bowlers entered but two have already been eliminated.

Ila Veibe lost by one pin in the straight knockout tourney and Tommy Bryant also failed to make the grade despite a tremendous performance.

Tommy rolled a high three of 728 but was defeated by his opponent who had an excellent second game.

Mrs. Williams wins beauty counsellor award

Mrs. Rhéal Williams of 853 Sayre Road has been awarded an Honor Court gold watch after being named the outstanding beauty counsellor in White Rock and district.

Mrs. Williams was presented with the watch at the monthly meeting of Beauty Counsellors held Tuesday night at the Flamingo Hotel in Whalley.

Presentation was made by Mrs. Elizabeth Slater and Mrs. Dorothy Crowe.

RECEIVES CERTIFICATE

Bob Boulton was among the seniors of White Rock Amateur Swimming Association who passed their Red Cross exams recently and received certificates.

Benefit dance to assist local fire stricken family

Canadian Customs and Immigration officers and their wives have joined together to stage a benefit dance for a family who lost their home and belongings in a fire on August 25.

Jim Torry, a customs officer at the Douglas Port of Entry, and his wife and family, will be assisted by friends and neighbors at the dance to be held Friday, September 4 at 9 p.m. at Hazelmere Hall on Halls Prairie Road.

Mr. Torry was working the graveyard shift and his wife and family were on holidays when the fire completely destroyed their Langley home.

The fire first gutted the premises and firemen believed they had put the blaze out. Mr. Torry returned home Wednesday morning, however, only to find the fire had started again and razed the premises.

Ladies are asked to bring a box lunch for two to the dance and coffee will be served. A miscellaneous shower gift will be given.

Gordon McPherson injured in accident

A 28-year-old father of five children is in "fair" condition in Royal Columbia Hospital after the vehicle he was driving collided with a truck in Surrey, Tuesday night.

Gordon McPherson of 14465 17th Ave., White Rock, suffered injuries when his car rammed into the rear of a flat-bed truck driven by David Chin of 3030 East Pender.

McPherson is the son of prominent White Rock businessman Victor A. McPherson and Mrs. McPherson of Terry Road.

Eagles Band wins high praise for performance at PNE outdoor theatre

White Rock Eagles Band performed at a one-hour concert at the Pacific National Exhibition's outdoor theatre on Wednesday, Aug. 26.

The boys and girls won high praise from Mr. Roy Gordon, talent scout from Hollywood, California, for their fine performance.

Among the audience were

Those wishing to assist in any way are asked to call: Mrs. Amy Pearce, WI 8-9637; Mrs. Lorcia Portwood, WI 8-3717; Mrs. Marguerite Thomas, WI 8-1231; Mrs. Joyce Cairns, WI 8-3712; Mrs. Joyce Henry, WI 8-1483 or Mrs. Eileen Wanke, WI 8-9203.

Prizes awarded derby winners

K. Trevelan took top prizes in the White Rock Eagles Salmon Derby Sunday with a 7 pound 1 1/2 oz. salmon.

He was awarded first prize of a steelhead rainproof jacket, glass trolling rod, reel, line dodgers, and lure donated by the local Eagles.

A 7 pound 5 1/2 oz. salmon gave Frank Miller second prize of a case of Shell outboard motor oil donated by Ocean Park Service.

Third prize went to D. Carlson with a 7 pound 5 ounce salmon which netted him a picnic ham donated by Seaview Meats. Most of the fish were caught near Point Roberts and the bell buoy with plugs being the favorite lure used.

The Eagles termed the derby "very successful" and plans are already being laid for a better contest next year with bigger prizes being offered.

WORKROOM RE-OPENS

The Red Cross workroom will re-open on Tuesday, September 8 and remain open every Tuesday from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. Mrs. L. Higgins, convener, reports.

Fighting political figure loses final battle here

One of White Rock's most colorful and outspoken citizens is dead.

William Ralph Offer, whose wit, vocabulary, and opinions comment rocked political meetings both here and further afield, passed away August 29 in White Rock District Hospital. He was 74 years of age.

Mr. Offer was taken to hospital earlier in the week suffering from a cold he developed while touring the British Isles with his wife recently.

He retired to White Rock in 1944 but had a summer cottage here for many years prior to his retirement.

Mr. Offer represented Ward 7 on Surrey Council in 1950-51 but was always a strong supporter of incorporation for White Rock.

He was a member of the Incorporation Committee and Provisional Council and was elected for a one year term in December of 1957.

He sought re-election again in the civic polls last year but lost his seat. Those closest to Bill Offer claimed he was deeply disappointed by the loss and never seemed to fully recover.

A staunch CFCer, Bill Offer had lived politics most of his life and his outspoken opinions on behalf of labor and the small man were hailed throughout Vancouver trade union circles.

Mr. Offer was born in Monmouth, Wales, and arrived in Canada in 1900. At the age of 14 he learned the trade of machinist in eastern Canada. He came west to the prairie provinces in 1904 where he took up railroad construction work as a sub-contractor and foreman. Mr. Offer came to the coast in 1907 and was employed as foreman at Lake Bunten for the Vancouver Power Company, now the B.C. Electric. He then became train-haul foreman on the CPR from Vancouver east to Kamloops. He did not return until 1924. Upon his return he acted as supervisor of underground work (See OFFER, Page 8)

Farewell party at Sunnyside

Mrs. N. McLeod and Mr. Iver
Fimrite, who have sold the Sunnyside Inn Cafe were honored at a farewell party at Sunnyside Hall last week. The evening was spent in dancing and community singing.

William Armstrong was master of ceremonies and he expressed best wishes on behalf of the assembled guests.
A buffet supper was served which included a cake decorated by Mrs. B. Bevan. Two little girls, Elizabeth Hamill and Bonnie Murray presented flowers, a corsage to Mrs. McLeod, and a boutonniere to Mr. Fimrite.
Replying to Mr. Armstrong's speech, Mr. Fimrite said that neither he nor Mrs. Fimrite had immediate plans for the future but that a vacation would no doubt be the first consideration.
He said that Mr. and Mrs. Wilson Rogers of Whalley who had purchased the Cafe would take possession September 1.

Russell-Murray wedding vows given at First United Church here recently

The marriage of Frances Anne, youngest daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Murray to William Russell, son of Mrs. Russell and the late Mr. J. L. Russell took place at the First United Church at 7:30 p.m. on August 1.

Dr. Rev. Geoffrey Glover officiated the double ring ceremony.
The radiant bride was given in marriage by her father. Her ballerina gown of Chantilly lace, satin and nylon appliqued net was enhanced by the groom's gift of pearls. An encrusted pearl coronet held her Chapel veil.

Mrs. Ron James of Long Beach was her sister's matron of honor, gowned in rose ap-pliqued organza, and the two flower girls Pat and Katherine Stewart, nieces of the groom, wore rose taffeta.
Mr. James Russell was best man and the ushers were Bruce and Donald Russell, all brothers of the groom.

Mrs. Winnifred Robinson conducted the junior choir in singing the Lord's Prayer during the signing of the register.

Mrs. S. Turnbull was at the organ.

At the reception held at the home of Dr. and Mrs. T. R.
Blades, Dr. Ann Hogg proposed the toast to the bride.

The happy couple honeymooned at Canim Lake, and are now at home at 8642 Selkirk, Vancouver.

Natural setting here for Foster Peckover rites

by Christina Stewart

For the second time in the month of August families of Ontario and White Rock were linked in marriage when Grace Roselynd Peckover became the bride of Victor John Foster, in a wedding ceremony both unique and beautiful held under towering firs fronting the ocean, in the grounds at present occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Ron Herman, Taylor Road, Ocean Park. Rev. W. Arnold Bennett of Vancouver officiated.

The bride is the third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Peckover, Thrift Road, White Rock, and the groom is the eldest son of Mr. and Mrs. John Foster of Toronto.

The bride will be remembered as the original proprietress of the Roselynd Beauty Salon and later as secretary of the White Rock Sun.

For the past three and one half years she has been active as church secretary and musical director of the Christian Missionary Alliance Church in Calgary, Alta.

The groom is employed in the field of advertising in Calgary.

In the natural setting, any decorations would have been superfluous. The guests seated in the chapel - under the trees, watched with pleasure as the bridal party walked from the house down the wide, hewn-rock steps and along the grass covered aisle.

Mr. Gordon Fowler of Vancouver sang "Oh Perfect Love" preceding their arrival. Mr. Gerald Fowler, also of Vancouver, was the organist.

Mr. John Spencer of Calgary was best man and Ronald Evans ushered.

The bridal party stood beneath a stand of tall firs flanked by the waters of the Pacific with the warm afternoon sun shining approvingly overhead.

Given in marriage by her father, the bride was beautiful in her waltz length gown of nylon appliqued net studded with rhinestones, featuring a sweetheart neckline edged with seed pearls and lily point sleeves.

She wore a single strand of pearls, the gift of the groom and carried a cascade bouquet of white marguerites. Her veil, the gift of Mrs. Ella May Eccles of Royal Avenue, was of finger tip length edged with embroidery and fell from a coronet of orange blossom and white forget-me-nots.

The bride's younger sister, Mrs. Frank Benner, a bride of two weeks, was matron of honor. She chose a pale pink silk dress embellished with tiny daisies. She wore a matching picture hat and carried a dainty basket of white and pale pink marguerites.

Linda May Evans, niece of the bride, was flower girl, wearing a pale blue silk dress embellished with tiny daisies and carried a basket of flowers and petals to strew in the path of the bride.

Mr. Gordon Fowler sang again during the signing of the register.

The reception followed the garden ceremony where guests gathered around tables placed under the trees.

Mrs. Peckover, attired in a flowered silk dress and picture hat and wearing a corsage of pink and white carnations received the guests on her own behalf and also on behalf of the groom's mother.

The bride's sisters, Mrs. I. Osman and Mrs. E. R. Evans presided as pourers during the serving of the refreshments.

Mr. R. Fowler of Calgary was toastmaster with the groom ably responding. Mr. Gerald Fowler, also of Calgary, was master of ceremonies.

Pink and white daisies centred the guest's tables and encircled the three tiered wedding cake baked by the bride's mother.

The program which followed included solos by Mrs. John Spencer and Miss Barbara Bingham and a duet by Mr. and Mrs. William Wilson.

Telegrams were read from well wishers in England, Toronto, Calgary and other centres.

It was noted that it had been over 18 years since the whole Peckover family had been home at one time. Four generations were present at the wedding.

Out of town guests included D. W. Rawson of California; Mr. and Mrs. L. Fowler, Miss Betty Tutt and Mr. and Mrs. John Spencer of Calgary.

After a short honeymoon up coast Mr. and Mrs. Foster left by plane to make their home in Calgary.

WHITE ROCK SUN THURSDAY, SEPTEMBER 3, 1959 5

Labor Day messages feature at United Church on Sunday, Sept. 6

Among the legal holidays throughout the year is the one which we call Labor Day. What is the significance of this day? Unlike some of our holidays, this one does not commemorate any particular event in our national or religious life. Rather it is set aside in recognition of one group of people in our society - those whom we speak of as making up the ranks of labor.

In the morning on "The Christian in Commercial Life," and at the evening 7:30 p.m. service on "What the Bible Says about Work."

In these messages something of the Christian concern for man in his everyday task will be spoken of, and the Christian philosophy of work presented.

In the first place this day was designed to call attention to the place of the laborer in our society, and to emphasize his rights. This is as true today as there is ever a need for this emphasis. But between the time when this day was first noted and our day, many of the rights of labor have become recognized, and are now established in our society. Because of this, and because rights always involve obligations, the emphasis of this day is incomplete and one-sided if it does not, in addition to the other, call attention to labor's responsibility to society.

The Church takes note of this Labor weekend by holding a special Labor Sunday, because in very large measure the Church has played an important part in the past speaking and working for the rights of labor. It also has still much to say to us in our modern day, and on Sunday at the First United Church in White Rock the Rev. Alfred R. Laing will be preach-

Parking meters - not for us!

Despite recent claims that no opposition has been sounded towards the proposal of establishing parking meters in White Rock we are still of the firm belief that the large majority of merchants and business concerns here do not favor such action.

Installation of parking meters would not solve our occasional parking difficulties, nor would it warrant the expense of operating and maintaining the meters. With the exception of Sundays and holidays, when charges on meters cannot be enforced anyway, parking presents no more of a problem in this city than it does in other B.C. centres of similar size.

That's if drivers are willing to give up that notion that they must park directly in front of the store they are going to because it is too much trouble to walk a block or two. That's if merchants will abandon that thoughtless habit of parking their own vehicles in front of their premises in business hours.

White Rock and district residents will drive to Vancouver or New Westminster and think nothing of parking their cars within several blocks or more of their destination and walking the rest of the way. But these same people will drive around the block several times in their own town rather than walk a short distance to wherever they are going.

One hour parking in White Rock has helped the parking situation to some extent but merchants must still endeavour to check themselves and their staff against taking up customer parking space.

Many merchants say that White Rock shoppers will go elsewhere rather than put a nickel in a parking meter and if there is the slightest chance of driving business out of town those pressing for parking meters would be well advised to take a second look at the situation.

We fail to see where our main business area, Washington Johnston and Pacific, are overcrowded on weekdays and Saturdays to the extent of warranting parking meters. Improvements carried out on Pacific Avenue, vehicles now being allowed to park adjacent to the school ground, plus the blacktopping and marking off of parking space on Washington have all aided traffic here considerably.

Council recently discussed their responsibility in providing parking directions on the Great Northern Property near the depot and should any action be taken in this regard, traffic hazards in this area would be greatly eased.

Businesses are required to pay various annual licences and taxes and also share in the cost of sidewalk improvements and they evidently don't feel council should encourage shoppers to go elsewhere by installing parking meters.

White Rock's business districts have been increasing rapidly during the past few years and more and more people from the surrounding areas are coming here to shop. Our aim is to see forward and the installation of meters at this time will not help the city in this aim.

The neighboring city of Langley tried parking meters but they were removed within a short period and we are inclined to believe the same procedure would be followed here.

There is no argument against the fact that White Rock faces parking difficulties on Sundays and holidays during the summer season but there is no chance of enforcing meters on these particular days.

The cost of employing maintenance men to keep the meters in working order and extra officials to enforce them could not be met by the amount the city would receive from these meters.

What's your opinion of parking meters? Don't wait until the meters are installed before voicing an opinion.

Compare prices first

Merchants in small cities, towns and villages located near large centres are becoming increasingly alarmed at a growing problem which is effecting their business - perhaps even to the point of forcing some to close their doors for good.

The problem is caused by their customers who charge up or buy small items locally then go to the big city for their major purchases such as appliances, furniture and clothing. Many open charge accounts in the larger centres and this trend is being felt across Canada and particularly here in B.C.

Business people in White Rock who are being affected by this buying policy claim that their prices are not higher than those offered in the larger centres. Food prices are said to be less than in Vancouver and local variety stores report they are selling items cheaper than in the large shopping areas.

With the exception of "loss leader" articles, hard goods are said to compare with Vancouver prices. "Loss leaders" are also offered at times locally.

Buyers are warned not to be fooled by "loss leaders." There is no service guarantee and articles are often labelled "loss leaders" because they are sub standard.

Remember every merchant must make a profit in business whether located in White Rock or Vancouver just as the individual expects a dividend on bonds or stocks he has invested in.

Merchants are purchasing extensive stock for fall and winter buying. Try your local stores first and compare prices and quality. If a store does not have what you want ask them to get it for you. If you are unable to get the service you desire no one will blame you for going elsewhere. Read the advertisements in this newspaper first. Don't be guilty of failing to give the White Rock merchants the first chance of satisfying you.

Eisenhower - Khrushchev

Cheering, shouting and waving, Eisenhower they greeted, On British soil no stranger, he sure friendly was treated. You must hand it to them there, they fully do their part, When they welcome, they do it right, with a real open heart. We've heard of strained relations, at times with Uncle Sam. What about Khrushchev, we're told he doesn't give a damn Of any country's feelings, a Communist thru and thru. Some say his visit to the British Isles, little 'twill do. But that's a matter of opinion, who can read a person's mind. He's no man's fool that's certain, but surely this he'll find. Real democracy in action, in a live and let live land. Something the Russian rank and file do not understand. We don't like all in the U.S.A. with much we disagree. But with their all world peace talk, in general we agree. — W. F. MCCLINTOCK

Local residents honored for WRASA work here

Three local residents who have made outstanding contributions to the White Rock Amateur Swimming Association were honored at the Club's annual banquet held in the Silver Moon Hall on Thursday, August 27.

Mrs. Kathy Meyers, on behalf of the Club members, paid tribute to Granny Harry James Vidal, founder of the Club, whose advice and guidance over the years has been such an inestimable help. Mr. Cecil Berry, long time, hard working secretary and head of the Queen of the Sea Contest whose recent illness has necessitated his resignation from the post but whose influence has been felt through the years, and Mr. W. E. Johnson, whose generous aid and cooperation has been a great aid.

Mrs. Vidal, now past 90, was presented with a corsage and Mr. Berry and Mr. Johnson with boutonnieres.

The dream of each club member, that of acquiring a swimming pool for all year purposes, was voiced again with enthusiasm. This project is especially dear to Granny Vidalized within her lifetime.

It was reported 28 children accomplished the quarter mile swim; more than 72 members made the tank; 13 juniors took the Red Cross examinations; 11 intermediates, while seven won the Bronze medals, one the bronze cross and eight completed the senior examinations. More than 700 members were enrolled in the Club this summer.

Ross Coulson was re-elected president at the annual election of officers presided over by Ken Stewardson. Mrs. C. Mason of New Westminster was named vice president; Mrs. Kenneth Cornhear, secretary; Mrs. Webster, Mr. Cecil Berry, Mrs. L. K. Sully and Mr. Howard Meyers, directors.

Leave Dogs at Home

Editor, White Rock Sun.

May I through this letter please appeal to the children of White Rock and district schools to please leave their dogs at home, now school will be starting soon, to keep them off the school grounds. If the children care for their pets and don't wish to lose them I have pleaded for years, so here I go again. Thanking you sir, for space.

Sincerely,
Noreen A. Burden.

Correction

Editor, White Rock Sun. Apparently an error was made in crediting the "Women's Club" of Crescent United Church for initiating and organizing the auction and tea held at the Kerster home as reported in your edition of August 28 last.

The following ladies have to take the full responsibility for the amazing success of their venture into the realm of auctioneering: Mrs. J. K. Kerster, Mrs. Harry Olds, Mrs. Robert Smith. Sorry ladies.

Sincerely,
A. E. Reed.

Sunnyside

Mrs. E. Mayo entertained at a bon voyage party at her home in Sunnyside for Mrs. A. Ellis, who, with her husband, left early in the week for a trip to England. Mrs. Ellis was presented with a piece of luggage at the afternoon party. Present on this occasion was Mrs. A. Hanley, Mrs. A. Barren, Mrs. Wycheley, Mrs. M. Morrison, Mrs. Currie, Mrs. J. Murray, rs R. Wilson, Mrs. Carrier, and Mrs. Andrew.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter Herman of Quesnel were in Sunnyside this past week where they visited friends. They lived in this district before going to the Interior.

Mrs. Eileen Lindley and her son Billy had a trip to Revelstoke where they visited friends.

G. R. Currie directed the Eagles Band when they gave an hour long musical presentation at the PNE last Wednesday.

Mr. and Mrs. Kaeter and children of Prince George were guests of Mrs. Kaeter's father, Mr. F. Collis of Stuyte Road. They were accompanied from Prince George by Mrs. Kaeter's aunt, Miss H. Nicholson who plans to spend some time in Sunnyside. On their return home they were accompanied by Mr. Collis who will visit in Prince George.

Mr. William Johnstone has sold his home on Sunnyside Road and left early in the week for Yellow Grass, Saskatchewan where he will make his home. He was accompanied to the

Lloyd Lewis & Son have 31 winners at PNE

White Rock and district residents are continuing to rack up their share of points in competition at the Pacific National Exhibition.

C. L. Sterling of Shamrock Farm, Crescent Beach, Frank Judd of White Rock, James Herdman, 15160 Roper Avenue, and Lloyd Lewis and Son, 2537 Johnston Road, have all placed in the livestock, horticultural and standard poultry divisions at the PNE.

Sterling took top honors in nine water fowl and pheasant competitions and came second in two others.

Judd was again first in eight fruit and vegetable contests in addition to placing in a number of others in the same division. Also taking blue ribbons and placing in the fruit and vegetable entries, was Herman with three firsts.

Lloyd Lewis and Son, always top winners with their poultry entries, took 31 firsts and a prairie by his daughter and granddaughter, Mrs. Jones and her little girl. Another daughter of Mr. Johnstone's, Mrs. Lyall and her husband, were up from Auburn, Washington, over the weekend.

Mrs. E. Hamill and her daughter Elizabeth moved to their new home at Newton last Saturday. Mrs. Pearson, Mrs. Hamill's mother, who plans to make her home at Newton, accompanied her.

Witnesses ready for Sept. rally

A. J. Sutton, 14988 14th Ave., presiding minister of the White Rock Congregation of Jehovah's Witnesses, reports that more than 100 volunteer workers began early this week to transform Queens Park, New Westminster, into a mammoth "Kingdom Hall" as 7,000 Witnesses converge on the city for their annual provincial assembly.

One of the main assembly jobs is the construction of a large stage on the ballfield area. This platform is 80 feet long and 50 feet wide surrounded in a floral setting of some 5,000 annuals, set out this spring.

This assembly is the last of 29 District conventions held in North America this year. Mr. Percy Chapman, the principal speaker and Canadian supervisor of Jehovah's Witnesses arrived Tuesday and was greeted by more than 400 Witnesses from the Vancouver and Fraser Valley area.

He will deliver the feature address on Sunday, September 6, to an expected audience of 10,000. His topic is, "When God Speaks Peace to All Nations."

St. Mary Anglican Church scene of Leard-Curry marriage vows

Barbara Ellen Curry and John Allan Leard were united in marriage at a double ring ceremony solemnized by Rev. John L. Clark at St. Mary the Virgin Anglican Church in New Westminster on Saturday evening, August 31.

The bride is the daughter of Mrs. Mabel Curry of Vancouver and the groom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Forest Borden Leard of White Rock.

The bride is a graduate of the Royal Columbian School of Nursing and the groom is employed in the pay office of the Royal Canadian Navy. He is stationed at Naden, B.C.

Given in marriage by her brother-in-law Mr. Peter Seaton of Vernon, the bride wore a full length gown of nylon organdy over taffeta with a slight train and scalloped neckline and a hemline. Her veil was of Italian lace and she carried a bouquet of white chrysanthemums.

The attendants were Mrs. Max Fox, matron of honour, who is sister of the bride, and Miss Evelyn Jones as bridesmaid. Their gowns were of beige brocade embossed with gold. They carried bouquets of gold chrysanthemums.

Mr. Carl Waiz of White Rock was best man and ushers were Mr. Fred Leard, brother of the groom and Mr. Ray Burrows.

Organist was Mrs. M. Nelson of New Westminster.

Mr. William Seaton proposed the toast to the bride at the reception held at Rose Garth, New Westminster.

Presiding at the tea table was Mrs. William Seaton. Servicemen were Mrs. Jack Barclay, Mrs. John Lockyer and Miss June Ann Lockyer.

Following the reception the couple left for their wedding trip to Alberta and parts of the United States. On their return they will reside at Victoria.

for the B.C. Electric railroad until 1927.

He then took a position with the sewer and sanitary department of the city of Vancouver where he remained until his retirement.

Mr. Offer is survived by his wife, two sons, John W. Yale, B.C., and Matthew S., Hope, B.C., two daughters in Wales and eight grandchildren.

Funeral service was held Wednesday, Sept. 2 from the new mortuary of Chapel Hill Funeral Parlour, North Burrard at Sunnyside Lawn. Rev. E. Pitt Griffiths officiated.

Honorary pallbearers were Mayor William Hodgson, Ald. Sid Fennell, Ald. John Hynds, Ald. Max Zack, Ald. Alex. Mitchell and Ald. Ed. Irwin.

Pallbearers were William Scott and Doug Drummond, both of Vancouver; George Parkinson, of Langley; Walter Hunter, representing Branch No. 8 of the Canadian Legion; Walter Portwood, representing White Rock Ratepayers Association, and Arthur E. Wall, representing Elks Lodge No. 431, White Rock, of which Mr. Offer was a charter member.

Bill Offer was a man who added both life and color to the dullness of political and ratepayer meetings. He had a superb gift of arousing violent controversy at such meetings and even those who disagreed with him most admired his direct and straight forward comment.

Bill Offer had as many enemies as he had friends probably because he said just what he thought regardless of who his views reflected upon.

As long as there was a meeting of public concern, Bill would hobble in, complete with railroad hat, cane and becomer slippers, and shortly after he would be involved in verbal battle.

Whether it was incorporation, elections, public works, or just general ratepayers business, he always had an opinion to express. Many said Bill Offer knew more about the operation of White Rock's sewer system than any engineer or municipal official. He should have done so because it was his favorite subject and nothing delighted him more than to hold forth with the facts and figures on the system during those hectic pre-incorporation meetings.

Bill Offer will be missed by his friends in White Rock but he will be missed much more by those he challenged, ridiculed and debated with during his varied and stormy political career.

Old Bill will like it better that way.

Appointed to power company

Appointment of Arthur E. Christopher to the board of directors of the B.C. Power Corporation has been announced by president A. E. Grauer.

Mr. Christopher, president of Nelsons Laundries Limited, succeeds John L. Farris, Q.C., who was appointed a temporary director last spring following the death of James G. Robson.

Mr. Christopher, 3006 South West Marine Drive, was born and educated in Victoria.

He was a bank manager in Victoria between 1928 and 1932 and in the investment business from 1932 to 1939 when he moved to Vancouver and took over Nelsons Laundries Limited.

He is also president of Nelsons Enterprises Limited.

He is vice-chairman of the Salvation Army advisory board and in 1956 was chairman of the Salvation Army extension appeal fund.

Mr. Christopher is a director of James Lovick & Company Limited, Glumet Products Limited, Castle Oil and Gas Company Limited, and the British Columbia Lightweight Aggregates Limited.

Whirl of showers for Aug. bride

Miss Germaine Accairias of Sunnyside was the honored guest at a whirl of bridal showers prior to her marriage last Saturday to Richard Olson.

Her mother, Mrs. Paul Accairias of Sunnyside had a troupeau tea in honor of Germaine. Mrs. F. Dent and co-hostess Mrs. J. Guest gave a miscellaneous shower at the home of Mrs. Dent, Sunnyside, when the girls were presented in a decorated basket of pink and white.

A dance was held in New Westminster at the home of Mrs. J. Olson when the groom-elect's aunt, Mrs. F. Wood, and his sister, Mrs. N. Sandahl, entertained the couple with a shower.

Mrs. M. Bodor and Mrs. G. Sheets held a surprise party at the home of Germaine while husbands of the hostesses honored the groom-elect at a stag party.

Mrs. Anne Gay gave a buffet luncheon at her home in White Rock when the guests showered the bride-elect with gifts.

Mrs. Bruce Follis entertained at a miscellaneous shower for her friend at her home in New Westminster.

Mr. and Mrs. Paul Accairias entertained for the bridal party at their home following the rehearsal at the Church of the Precious Blood at Cloverdale.

A complex cooker

by Sylvia Walton

With deep concentration my fingers worked amongst the instruments on the control panel — lights flash on and off, dials move, buzzers sound — my husband stands anxiously by in case of emergency, not offering advice or help, knowing that I must master this thing myself, that unless I gain utter control the end can only be charred remains.

What can this be, you are wondering — well, dear reader, let me say at once that this is no Cape Canaveral, that I am not planning to put a sputnik into orbit from my cottage on the hill, merely endeavouring by a process of trial and error to learn how to use the instrument panel on my new gas cooker.

Of course, I can use it manually but then that, wretched black and white panel with the star burst in the centre and all the little white knobs and windows will forever grin derisively at me. And so, although I am an old-fashioned woman, and not ashamed of the fact, I am going to conquer this thing — or else!

Stand back now — it says here "hours to cook" and so if I turn the knob, the homely sensible word "manual" disappears and black magic takes over. From now on anything can happen, from a rocket flight to the moon to a perfectly baked potato, but of course, I have to make up my mind how long I shall be away from home — shall I go to a show, or merely take a nap on the living room couch? And I mustn't forget to tell the genie who resides at the back of the panel how long I want the meat or the cake, or whatever it is, to start cooking.

Simple you say? Maybe, but then, I haven't a degree in engineering or electronics, in fact, I still find it cause for wonder that at the touch of a switch a man peddling toothpaste or detergent can whisper sweet nothings in my ear. But what's this — something is happening — the oven light has come on!

Yes, I will concede it is nice to have a window in the oven door — some future scientist may say his world shaking ideas came to him while watching his mother's cakes rising through the oven window — but this little matter of working out time sheets each time you cook a meal — maybe I should take a correspondence course on higher maths or something. Meantime, this fabulously expensive but minute roast of beef, a sacrifice to my ignorance, must be cooked in time for supper.

Turn on the oven knob — will it work? Maybe I should call Butchart's, Bill is so obliging, I'm sure he won't mind — "what's that dear, you'd like a bit of bread and cheese and a cup of tea for supper?" Sure enough, six cheeps from the cuckoo clock and I shall have to go through all this again tomorrow! Which comes of being born at least 30 years too soon. It seems to me that modern people come to earth with a built-in appliance technique.

Mr. and Mrs. J. Haines and family of Sunnyside Road have returned home after their vacation as have Mr. and Mrs. Tom Haines of Coast Meridian Road.

When you're going places, it's a smart idea to carry Personal Effects Insurance. You'll be fully protected against theft or loss of your possessions.

A SONG

Let go!
Let go of all the pain,
Make room within the heart for that which should be there — love, joy, lightness, Things so fair
That music fills the sunny air —
And someone hears
— and hearing, longs
To understand the lovely song;
So can God's Love
— like sunshine fall
With healing,
To enfold us all!

A Pictorial Presentation of the stylish and distinguished new Mortuary of the Chapel Hill Funeral Parlour Ltd.

Canada's finest mortuary to be opened Sept. 4

"Canada's finest mortuary will be officially opened by Chapel Hill Funeral Parlour on Friday, September 4.

The magnificent structure, which includes a beautiful chapel, is located at the corner of North Bluff and Goldstone Roads.

Dudley C. Evens, president of Chapel Hill, and Courtney D. (Buster) Evens, funeral director and musician, will be in attendance from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m.

An invitation to inspect the premises during these hours has been issued to the public by the management of Chapel Hill.

An organ recital will be held during the afternoon hours with Robert Hay at the Baldwin Organ which is complete with stereophonic speakers.

This organ is equipped with two manuals, two 25-watt speakers and the 60 watt stereophonic speaker.

The new mortuary is a spacious building and Chapel Hill has excelled in every phase of thoughtful planning in order to provide the utmost for considerate funeral arrangements.

The building is complete with arranging room, office, slumber rooms, family room, foyer, inquest room, and two apartments above.

These apartments will be occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Dudley Evens and Mr. and Mrs. Courtney Evens.

There are three washrooms and a ladies powder room conveniently located on the ground floor.

All rooms are furnished with sectional chesterfields and chairs of foam rubber and wall to wall carpeting and tile cover the entire floor area of the building.

Features of the exterior of the building include a 66 by 22 foot concourse to facilitate Chapel Hill's five vehicles and a gravelled parking area for 25 cars.

A gravelled driveway leads up to the concourse from North Bluff and access for public parking leads from Goldstone Road.

Mr. Evens first came to White Rock nine years ago and opened Chapel Hill Funeral Parlour on Victoria Avenue at D Street.

A View of the New Mortuary

Chapel Hill Funeral Parlour Ltd. will officially open "Canada's finest mortuary" at North Bluff and Goldstone Roads on Friday, September 4 from 2 p.m. to 4 p.m. and from 7 p.m. to 9 p.m. The opening will climax nearly two years of careful construction on this magnificent structure. The exterior of the building creates an impression of modern design and yet witholds a dignified air. The interior is designed to offer an atmosphere of serene beauty and deep understanding.

A host of firms have played a role in the construction of Chapel Hill Funeral Parlour's new mortuary.

Their congratulations and best wishes to the management and staff of Chapel Hill are found on the pages of this supplement.

Contractors and suppliers from White Rock and district and other points have joined together to extend greetings to Chapel Hill on the occasion of their opening.

Firms who have taken part in the building and supplying of materials for the new mortuary and whose advertisements appear on these pages are:

G. H. Evens, building contractor, Vancouver; Ocean Park Bulldozing, North Surrey; Glenore's House of Color, White Rock; George Stanworth, roofing, White Rock; McPherson Lumber, White Rock; Langlands Lumber, White Rock; Riverdale Lumber, Newton; H. H. Reimer, church pews, Abbotsford; Harry Davey Cartage, White Rock; Fennell Electric, White Rock; Phillips and Duckett, Plumbing, Heating and Tinsmiths, White Rock; Cristall's Tool Town, Vancouver; Haney Glass Company, Haney; E. R. Burgess, roofer, White Rock and Gribbin Piano and Organ of Vancouver.

New chapel has features unique in funeral home building in Canada

A masterpiece in construction unique anywhere in Canada can best describe the new chapel which is the foremost feature in Chapel Hill Funeral Parlour's new mortuary which opens Friday.

The structure of the chapel is of laminated arch beams rising to a peak of 30 feet. Red cedar decking four inches thick adds to its attractiveness and atmosphere of serenity.

The wing walls and rose cathedral glass share in the beauty of the chapel which seats 150.

Modern folding doors at the rear can be opened when required in order to seat an additional 50 people.

The chapel has no ceiling and indirect lighting effects is another special aspect of the chapel.

Three crosses of red ruby glass are located high at the front of the chapel allowing those seated in the stylish pews to have a clear view of this design at all times.

The family room is discreetly located at the left of the chapel facing that area from where the service is read.

Entrance to the elevated organ loft is gained through the foyer at the rear of the chapel and is located in a manner which allows the organ to be heard clearly.

Chapel Hill offers public service

Chapel Hill maintains and operates an ambulance at all times as a public service.

All members of the Chapel Hill staff hold first aid certificates and are on 24-hour call ready to meet any emergencies that occur in this area.

Charge for an ambulance call covers a wage for one man but a staff of three are on constant duty. This means that Chapel Hill operates the ambulance at their own expense.

Shortly after White Rock incorporated Chapel Hill explained the existing circumstances to council and asked the city to help defray cost of operating the ambulance service. Chapel Hill informed council at that time that unless financial aid was received from the city, the service would have to be abandoned.

After some consideration to the request, council rejected the appeal for aid and rather than see the area without an ambulance service, Chapel Hill continued to operate the equipment and is still doing so today.

Few of the public are aware of the service being carried out by Chapel Hill in this regard and therefore few appreciate the time, effort, and money being spent by the local firm in maintaining the ambulance.

Surrey purchases Brown estate on Pacific Hwy. for use as park

The municipality of Surrey now acquired the fabulous Brown Estate which is situated near the Pacific Highway at West about three miles from White Rock. The entire fifty-nine-acre estate will be used for park purposes.

Litigation over the estate has ended and expropriation proceedings by Surrey have now been completed.

This plot is in all probability the finest potential park area in B.C.

It contains more than one hundred California Redwood trees, some of them over 100 feet high.

The property was homesteaded years ago by the Brown family and over the years some of it has been sold off in small parcels but enough remains to make the park a sizeable place and to more than warrant the money that will have to be spent on it in future years.

At the present time the whole area is greatly overgrown and in many places is strewn with debris which has accumulated over the years.

At one time the Brown brothers, Dave and Pete, lived in a two storey house which sits on stilts and is also supported by trees 20 feet in the air. This tree house, which still stands, has a verandah across the front which gives the impression of the flying bridge of a ship.

Around this dwelling the wastes and accumulated junk of many years still lies undisturbed. The two barns which surround it have collapsed and weeds have grown.

Among this detritus can be seen the iron tires of an old Red River cart, a rotted wagon gear, the remains of a slaughter house (scale beam, and meat hooks) some old whiskey cases, a few pounds of hand cut nails and an old chamber pot.

From among this miscellany Surrey Parks Superintendent Bob Nicholson has removed the better preserved articles and they will be displayed in the Surrey Museum at Cloverdale.

The whole area will be in time tidied, the heavy undergrowth removed and the trees pruned and thinned.

This will be a major undertaking as the entire place gives the impression of having been planted with lavish and joyous abandon.

There are trees and shrubs from many countries including Russia and Japan. There are holly trees next to Redwoods, and so close that they are touching each other are fruit trees, nut trees, ornamental evergreens and some monkey puzzle trees.

Order will be introduced into this jungle so that the true beauty of what is there may be seen.

The trees will be thinned and the lower branches cut and some undergrowth removed so that trails can be built.

All this cannot be done in a year, but when it is completed it will be unique anywhere on the Pacific Coast.

Surrey residents will then be able to boast to California visitors that we too have redwoods, not, it is true, grown to their full height of perhaps 300 feet, with a circumference of more than 70 feet, but undoubtedly redwoods, and young and vigorous ones at that.

The park is not yet open to the public as it lies entirely surrounded by private property, but it is expected that an access road will be built within a few weeks.

Tale bearers are just as bad as tale makers.
— Richard Brinsley Sheridan

Seen above is a portion of the California Redwood grove on the Brown estate. Some of the lower branches have been removed and the undergrowth brought under control so that it may be used by the public for park purposes.

Displayed in Moscow this summer as part of an American exhibit, this sofa might at first appear to doubtful Russians as another example of capitalist extravagance. When they look closer, however, they see that it opens up into a comfortable double bed at night and the upholstery material is just as practical as it is decorative. Now being sold in Canada, it has an attractive covering of textured "Fibrilite," a vinyl-coated fabric highly resistant to wear and which can be kept clean with a damp cloth.

Now's the time

by Margaret Lang
Although it's a fact that British Columbia enjoys some delightfully warm weather even in September, there have been several days recently with weather warning us that summer is just about over.

On a warm, sunny day it's rather difficult to believe this is so - especially with all the late-summer bloomings in the gardens disproving any evidence of summer's end.

However, it just takes one stormy day at this time of year to point up the truth that fall is on its way and that we who garden will soon be busy with the fall gardening.

Since seed gathering is one of my favorite joys in the fall, it is one of the tasks underway now, employing some of the time usually spent in weeding. The practice of carefully gathering, drying and storing seeds is an almost hereditary trait, passed on to me by my mother and her parent, my grandfather.

It has proven a very compensating practice, for not only does it provide seeds to use with abandon for my own planting, but there's always seeds left over to give away to gardening friends (who in turn sometimes exchange some of their seed harvest with me.)

I was reminded of the far-reaching rewards of this thrifty habit lately as I checked the tall poles of scarlet runners for the pods of beans destined to ripen for seed. The vines were still producing abundantly even after doing a noble job of supplying the long tender beans for our table throughout the past several weeks. The bright blossoms gave promise of more to come too, should the warm weather continue.

Almost a decade ago I was given two bean seed of a new type of scarlet runner supposed to grow a foot long bean. I planted them with special care and each bean sprouted, flourished and bore on its tall vine, clusters of the longest beans I have ever seen.

Even though the beans made such delicious eating that it was a temptation to use every one for that purpose, a few pods were kept for seed and shared with other gardening members of the family.

For many of the following years, up to settling in White Rock, we had no garden in which to grow the amazing long beans, but thanks to our provident family custom of saving seed, we had no difficulty in once again getting a "starter" for growing this wonderful vegetable.

Admittedly, there are many popular plants it is not practical for the amateur gardener to try and perpetuate, but in my experience seed-saving has been a worthwhile tradition to foster and can embrace a marvellous variety of the flowers and vegetables grown in the average garden.

When carried on in a moderate way, seed saving can provide a little bonus of interest to the fall gardening, and it certainly cuts down considerably on the cost of the spring garden.

Accidents on upswing during long weekend

Accidents will be on the upswing over the final long weekend of the summer, warns the All Canada Insurance Federation.

Officials of the Federation, which represents more than 250 fire, automobile and casualty insurance companies, said more than 70 deaths will be caused from highway accidents, drowning and other mishaps over the forthcoming weekend unless strict precautions are taken.

In an effort to minimize tragic death and injury, the Federation suggests the following precautions:

1. Drive carefully; traffic will be at its heaviest over the weekend.
2. Avoid fatigue by making frequent stops; on long trips into easy stages.
3. Never overload the car with luggage or passengers.

4. Never let small children near water unattended.
5. Don't let children swim with the aid of rubber mattresses or inner tubes unless they are strong, skilled swimmers.
6. Even if you are a strong swimmer, never swim alone.
7. Never interrupt anyone performing artificial respiration on a drowning person, but be prepared to take over the job if he indicates fatigue.
8. Make certain all kerosene and gas lamps, heaters and stoves are out before leaving the cottage.
9. If you are unfamiliar with an area, find out immediately where the nearest doctor can be located; always have a fully-stocked first-aid kit on hand.

Educational program for use of plastic film

"An intensive education program to instruct the public in the safe use of plastic film is the logical solution to the urgent problem of infant smotherings attributed to thin plastics," Dr. Fred W. Jeffrey, prominent Ottawa pediatrician, told the British Columbia Safety Council recently.

Dr. Jeffrey's statement is supported by the Canadian Pediatric Society who at the present annual meeting passed the following resolution:

"It is the opinion of the Canadian Pediatric Society that plastic film as a cause of accidental death among infants and young children should receive the same consideration as other hazards found in all Canadian homes, such as poisons, knives, matches, electric appliances, etc. The need for a sustained education program to instruct the public in its safe use is clearly indicated."

"Plastic film after it has fulfilled its intended purpose, should be destroyed or stored in a place inaccessible to children. The advantages of plastic film have been so well justified, that the prohibiting of its use does not seem justified."

The British Columbia Safety Council has launched just such a sustained educational program as advocated by the Canadian Pediatric Society and Dr. Jeffrey.

It will extend across Canada, in a co-operative effort with all other provincial Safety Organizations, and is designed to make parents aware of the dangers of thin plastic and instruct them in its safe use. The program has as its objective the elimination of this cause of needless infant deaths, through sensible use of the material.

Teaching children religion often harmful

Parents who try to teach their pre-school aged children about God often do more harm than good, a Toronto rabbi argues in the current Maclean's.

Four and five year olds, writes Dr. Stuart E. Rosenberg, are too young to understand our complex theology. Attempts to teach them about God can misshape their religious values of later years and leave them with "fantastic notions concerning God, some smacking of anti-social, even unethical concepts."

Small children, he maintains, are not ready emotionally or intellectually, for God. They can't make discriminating decisions, can't sift truth from error, and are prey to the authority of parents and teachers. Their inner needs are different from those of an adult. Consequently, says Dr. Rosenberg, the adult portrait of God will do little to satisfy their emotional wants and may result in confusion as the child grows older.

Some parents, he charges, exploit God by using His name or the threat of His wrath to get children to obey. Others mislead their children into thinking of God as a personal bodyguard, as an invisible overlord who will always save them from harm. Such an approach, warns Dr. Rosenberg, can result in the spoiled adults and bring on emotional breakdowns. "Only when parents give up the idolatry of convenient and private household deities and fill the meaning of God with social and ethical values will they be performing useful religious roles," he writes.

"Most important is the need for parents and teachers to recognize that religion is not only a verbal or symbolic system that centres in God. If we can get ourselves to think of religion in terms of a loving, courageous and vital attitude toward life, then we may come to realize that we can endow our little ones with a potent religion."

Counting the 'whunks'

The Hamilton Spectator

They aren't sold by the dealers, you never see one on a used car lot and, so far as we know, no manufacturer has ever produced one — but they exist nevertheless. We refer to the type of automobile which stops at a neighbor's house to discharge passengers coming home from a party at 12:30 a.m.

The car in which these people have been given a lift home carries at least 26 passengers and has 17 doors. Any person lying in bed trying to sleep who doubts this may count the number they seem to hear alighting and the resulting heavy "whunk" sound as each of the doors slams shut. These doors are ingeniously made of ferro-concrete slamming against a sort of sodden echo chamber. They were designed by the man who built the power plant for a North Star or variable pitch propeller for a Harvard. But it has a unique quality. The harmonic note of its extra late synchronizes always the air volume in the bedroom of the nearest sleepers, creating a pulsation such as goes on in an organ pipe.

The headlights on this early morning automobile are on a swivel arrangement, so that no matter in what direction the car faces, the beam will always shine into your bedroom. It has a radio, too, designed by the man who put the public address system in Grand Central Terminal. When you consider that on its departure, it can rev up from a standing start to 80 miles an hour in the first 20 feet, it is, all in all, quite an automobile.

But they make them and you can't buy one. They just happen outside your house, that is, at 12:30 a.m.

Miss Patty Sandquist to attend UN seminar

More than 125 teen-agers from all parts of the province are attending the seventh annual high school seminar on the United Nations at the University of British Columbia.

Attending the conference from White Rock is Miss Patty Sandquist.

The seminar, which began last Sunday, and continues until tomorrow, is sponsored by the Vancouver and Victoria branches of the U.N. Association and the UBC extension department.

Dr. N. A. M. MacKenzie, President of UBC officially welcomed the delegates to the seminar Sunday evening. At meetings from Monday to Friday the delegates will hear lectures on the military history and objectives of the U.N., the world organizations' specialized agencies and talks on individual countries such as Japan, India and China.

Among the speakers were Gordon Selman, assistant director of UBC's extension department, R. P. Dore, of UBC's Asian studies department and Professor F. H. Soward, head of the department of history.

The delegates also spent an afternoon at the Pacific National Exhibition and were guests

What a citizen can do about the mentally ill

by Mathew Ross, M.D., Director B.C. Columbia Survey on Mental Health Resources and Needs

Dr. Mathew Ross is Medical Director of the American Psychiatric Association, Washington, D.C. He is conducting a survey of mental health resources and needs in British Columbia at the request of the Provincial Government. A. P. A., with 11,500 physician members, is the leading professional society for psychiatrists in North America. It has a Canadian office in Toronto. Working with Dr. Ross are representatives of the Canadian Mental Health Association and its British Columbia Division; the Canadian Medical and Psychiatric Association; the Department of National Health and Welfare; the Provincial Department of Mental Health Services; the Department of Psychiatry of the University of British Columbia Medical School, and over 200 expert consultants drawn from A.P.A. Committee Members and University Departments of Psychiatry throughout Canada and the U.S.

For most people thinking about mental illness is like thinking about juvenile delinquency, international disagreements, and crime. The problems involved are so complex, it is hard to know what a person can do about it.

Yet, mentally ill people can be touched by almost everyone, directly or indirectly, and it is not hard to suggest how citizens can be of help. Nearly every one has known a person who was mentally ill—or will sometime—and has been or will be in a position to lend a helping hand.

For one thing, the least a citizen can do is take an intelligent interest in the struggle against mental illness. In the final analysis it is the taxpayer that foots most of the national bill for mental illness. He cannot afford to be indifferent about it. Perhaps the easiest way to become informed about mental illness and how to fight it most effectively, is to participate in the work of local mental health associations. If there is not such an association in one's community, a person might take initiative in forming one. Or, at least, one might read the literature on the subject published by the mental health association, or perhaps a basic book such as "The Human Mind," by Dr. Karl A. Menninger.

Aside from mental health associations, there are many other civic groups whose members and resources can contribute to the fight against mental illness. These include church service groups, parent teachers associations, ladies' and men's fraternal groups, and others. I know of one hospital in Providence, Rhode Island, which has a standing agreement with the local Boy Scouts. The Scouts are allowed to camp out on the grounds in return for which they police the grounds once a week, taking away all trash, underbrush and waste.

On a more personal level, if one lives within striking distance of a mental hospital, chances are there is an opportunity to do volunteer work at that hospital. There is almost no limit to what a volunteer can do, depending on aptitude and training. They may take patients for a ride or to the theatre, read to them, teach them a skill, or just be a good friend. One never knows what seemingly inconsequential touch of human kindness may bring a withdrawn mental patient out of his shell. There are thousands of patients in our public mental hospitals who haven't had a personal visit from anyone for years.

One of the great needs of the time is to find jobs for ex-mental patients. Tremendous effort has been put into rehabilitating the physically handicapped, but most employers shy away from employing the ex-mental patient. Just as physically handicapped people can be carefully screened to discover their potentials as workers, so can former mental patients. It is to be hoped that more businessmen and industrialists will take an interest in the great potential that exists in utilizing this untapped manpower resource.

All of the things which I have outlined as coming under the heading of "citizen participation" are almost humble in their simplicity; for some persons and so simple that they will be these suggestions are so obvious overlooked since many people have the idea that efforts made to solve a social problem must be dramatic to be effective.

In this field, at least, I am convinced that "slow and steady" does it. What the mentally ill need, what we professionals who are working with the mentally ill need, is not the on-again-off-again efforts of a few citizens, but the steady informed understanding of the many. And this is acquired, year by year, as more and more people do simple things they would not do if they did not feel concern for and interest in the mentally ill.

Victors lead exports to Canada and United States

More Vauxhall Victors have been exported this year than any other British model. The car which became Britain's number one export within less than a year of its introduction in March 1957, is hitting new and higher sales figures abroad in 1958.

After three months of 1958, Vauxhall car exports were up 63% over the first quarter of 1957, with the United States the biggest buyer, taking 4,660 Victors.

At the year's halfway mark 24,700 Victors had gone abroad in six months - nearly six times the number of 4 cylinder Vauxhalls sold overseas in the first half of 1956.

Vauxhall Victors topped the export figures for any British car in their first production year. In August this year, the Victor was the top selling British car in the United States, Belgium, Holland and Luxembourg; the leading British car in its class in Canada - 60 percent higher sales than any other British model; Switzerland, Norway, Denmark, Sweden, Austria and Portugal.

AWAY AHEAD

This is the latest chapter in a meteoric success story. The Victor was designed for a new standard of roominess, comfort, safety and performance in relation to its modest cost. It pioneered panoramic vision in Britain, established new criteria for steering, handling and road-holding. Its brake design was unique. So was its triumph in export markets.

Export orders passed eight million pounds with a month of the Victor's appearance. Within three months, export output had to be rationed, even though production had soared from 100 to 300 a day, and reached 400 a month later.

By August last year double shift production of 17 hours a day preceded the appearance of the Victor in America. In September, this was scheduled for 1,000 cars a month. Within weeks, exports to North America were running at the rate of over 50 million dollars a year. In Canada, where both Victors and current six-cylinder Vauxhalls are sold, one in three of all British Cars sold in the first half of the year was a Vauxhall - compared with one in eight in the first half of 1957.

The Vauxhall Victors presently hold second place in Canadian car sales. Chevrolet is first, Vauxhall second, Ford third and Volkswagens ninth.

Eagles win cancer award

The provincial aerle of the Fraternal Order of Eagles has been awarded perpetual custody of the Jack Diamond Trophy.

The Trophy, established four years ago as an annual award to the organization making the year's outstanding contribution to the fight against cancer, has been won each year by the Eagles.

This year when they won it for the fourth straight time, the Society decided to award the trophy outright.

Mrs. T. N. Weir, of Invermere, a director of the Society, made the presentation to Ray Johnson, provincial chairman of the Eagles' 1959 Conquer Cancer Committee, at the Order's annual convention in Cranbrook.

Donald F. Farris, chairman of the joint cancer campaign committee, praised "the splendid degree of help and support" given by the Eagles.

"It is a privilege to be associated with the Order in a joint effort to bring about the defeat of man's most cruel enemy — cancer."

Massey thanks public for Deas Tunnel support

General Hospital,
Vancouver,
August 28, 1959.

An open letter to the people of Richmond, their Reeve and Council:

We have just recently completed a great community project in the Deas Island Tunnel and its associated thruway.

In my mind, it has been a truly community project, for many of our citizens have contributed to, and participated in, its creation.

In my capacity as your representative in the Legislature at Victoria, may I here express my appreciation, and my commendation, to those many people who have, by their willingness, support and effort, made this great project possible. I am confident that you will all realize a great sense of pride in its creation every time you drive over the route from Vancouver to Delta and the border.

Our two modest communities of Richmond and Delta were singularly honored by the presence of Her Majesty Queen Elizabeth and His Highness Prince Philip on July 15 during the official opening ceremonies.

It was on this occasion, that you kind people of Richmond chose to honor me by the erection of a beautiful plaque at the tunnel approach, which bears a dedication to myself.

This gesture, on your part, will forever remain one of the most appreciative moments of my life, and to you all, each and every one, may I express my humble thanks.

I can at best hope, that in future, I shall be able to serve you in a manner that is in fitting comparison to the high honor you have accorded me.

In the weeks that lie immedately ahead, it will be necessary for me to apply my full effort to reconstructing my health, and I will not be available to you as I have been in the past, but, it is hoped that this period will be of short tenure and that I may very soon be visiting with you again.

In the meantime, on behalf of Mrs. Massey and myself, let me express my appreciation for the many cards and flowers that have brightened this room since my illness.

With kindest regards to you all.

George N. Massey, M.L.A.
Yours sincerely,

Church Camp plans busy weekend

Registration rose to 47 Monday at the Happy Hour Bible Club being conducted for two weeks at the Evangelistic Tabernacle camp grounds at Crescent Beach.

The Clubs are being held in conjunction with the Evangelistic Crusade being conducted by Rev. Art E. Sheppard and Irwin Mangham who are holding services nightly at 8 p.m. with the exception of Monday and Saturday.

Crowds have been good in each service and officials report an eventful weekend is planned.

The children will present a special program to the parents on Friday evening. Two services will be held on Sunday and a great fellowship rally is planned for Labor Day.

Groups from neighboring churches on the Lower Mainland will attend. Rev. Glen S. McLean of Eston, Sask. will bring a message that evening.

INCREASING YOUR STOCK FOR NEXT YEAR

There are plenty of your half-hardy plants you may want to increase by taking cuttings, and it is as well to do so right now. Such things as geraniums, fuchsias, heliotropes, yellow marguerites, verbenas and double petunias, are all subjects which will take root easily at this time, before the cold damp days arrive. Naturally it is essential you should have a good place to winter them in, either a green house, a glassed-in verandah or a good sunny window.

One of the greatest mistakes some people make when taking cuttings is keeping them too wet. This applies especially in the case of soft-wooded plants like geraniums, pelargoniums and petunias. Too much moisture will surely cause them to rot off. Water them once, as soon as the cuttings are put in the pots or boxes, whichever containers you decide to use, then leave them alone till they show signs of growth, which is a sign that they have taken root.

Cuttings of these plants should be no more than four or five inches long for the smaller subjects, and six inches for geraniums. In the case of geraniums, cut off your intended cutting off the parent plant a little longer than you will eventually want it, so as to make sure you have sufficient leaf joints to work on. Trim off all the leaves but two good ones at the top of the cutting with a sharp-bladed knife or an old razor blade; then make a clean cut across the base immediately below a leaf joint. When you have made all the cuttings you intend to "strike" lay them on a bench or table in the shade for 10 or 12 hours, or even overnight. This will give them time to form a "callous" where the cut has been made.

The next thing to do, is to prepare the containers you wish to strike them in. If you have a large number you wish to strike, a deep flat can be used; but the best thing otherwise is a 5-inch flower pot. Wipe the inside and out, then lay some "crock" (broken pieces of flower pots) at the bottom of the pot for drainage, cover these with a few leaves of rough material or dead leaves to prevent the soil falling between the crocks. Then fill up your pots with a mixture of light garden soil, peat and coarse sand in equal proportions, press down firmly, leaving about an inch and a half space at the top, and then half fill this space with sand.

Make a hole with a dibber and insert your cutting in the hole, making sure the cutting rests firmly on the base of the hole; some of the sand at the surface will fall into the hole as you put the cutting in, and this will help roots to form. It is advisable to use a hormone, such as auxin, when putting the cutting in. Dip the base of the cutting in the hormone powder, shake off excess powder and insert in the hole. Press each cutting firmly in the pot. A five inch pot will easily hold 6 or 8 cuttings around the sides of the pot.

All the other subjects can be treated in much the same manner, but many of them which have not so sappy as geraniums, such as fuchsias, do not have to be held over for any length of time, and can be put in immediately after being cut. Use the hormone if possible, it helps tremendously.

All these particular instructions are naturally for the novice only. Many of you gardeners have your own way of taking cuttings, and some of you with so-called "green thumbs" can strike cuttings anywhere and any way, in straight sand or in a jar of water. I don't presume to tell you how you should do it!

REPAIRING BARE PATCHES IN THE LAWN

Those bare patches in the lawn which look so dreadful can easily be patched up now, rather than waiting to seed them in the spring.

I am sure you can find a patch of sod growing where it is not needed, and which you can cut in squares with a half-moon. Cut what you need with the half-moon in sizes no larger than 10 or 12 inches square; run the half moon under the grass sod horizontally two or three inches thick, and lift and carry over to where you want to repair the bad patch. Dig deep, and replace with the patch or patches sufficient to complete the bad place. When all the patches of sod or in place, pat down with the back of the spade and soak well with water, and keep watered if the weather is dry. Later on, with a light roller. You will find it is quite an interesting job, cutting the sod to fit in odd shapes, like a cardboard picture puzzle.

Announce daughter's engagement here

Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Broadfoot of White Rock announce the engagement of their daughter, Dianne Frances, to Daniel Morrison Jarvis, son of Mrs. C. B. Jarvis of Vancouver.

The wedding will be held at 2 p.m., Sept. 19, in Shaughnessy Heights United Church with Rev. T. M. Badger officiating.

Bridal attendants will be Miss Judy Mitchell, maid of honor; Miss Judy Ritchie and the bride-elect's younger sister, Miss Sheila Jarvis.

Gordon Billings will be best man and ushers will be Arthur Coles and Robert Bowyer.

"It's not so much that we need two cars, a new kitchen and mink coats for everybody," this fellow's wife explained to him, "But it's our patriotic duty in case some visiting Russian drops in to see how a typical Canadian family lives."

The past, the present and the future are really one — they are today.

The present hour alone is man's.

Good time to enlarge on Canada's investment

The time is opportune to enlarge Canada's investment stake in Jamaica, says the Bank of Montreal in its Business Review for August, just issued.

"Continued growth of the island's economy along the orderlies lines already achieved is part of a long-range development plan which, while adaptable, has been broadly adhered to since its inception in 1957," the review states.

The B of M points out that the plan "encompasses balanced improvements in agriculture, industry services, tourism, employment and education. Under the plan, Jamaica's attractions as a field for investment and a market for goods, together with its status as an exporter, should continue to improve.

"And, as the political union of the West Indies now in effect is in due course followed by closer economic integration of the Federated islands, a broader sphere of business opportunities will open up in the Caribbean," the bank says.

One immediate manifestation is the decision of the new Bank of London and South America, now has 18 branches in Latin America and Nassau, Bahamas, and plans to open its first Jamaican office in September.

FUTURE EXPANSION

"In recent years," the review states, "Jamaica has striven for, and achieved a high degree of economic expansion and diversification which bids fair to continue in future."

Agriculture is still the island's most important single source of wealth, the bank observes, although it has been "mining, manufacturing and tourism, together with attendant construction outlays and the growth of the service industries, that have contributed to the expansion of Jamaican income, employment and trade in recent years."

The B of M says that the rise in manufacturing is just as significant as the growth of agriculture. In this area of the economy, "to the traditional processing of local materials into consumer goods, largely for domestic sale, there have been added in recent years a wide range of manufactured items using imported materials to some extent and contributing substantially to sales abroad."

The B of M points out that the export of clothing has increased 2.5 times in the past two years and another textile mill is being constructed this year. There are also new products of aluminum, plastics and paper, coming from new factories, and a new oil refinery is being constructed.

Canada told to get used to supporting 'permanent unemployed'

Recession or no recession, Canadians might as well get used to the idea of supporting thousands of "permanent unemployed," says the current Maclean's.

Ottawa editor Blair Fraser writes that it's unlikely Ottawa will take any steps to change the situation. "It is apparent to politicians of all parties," he writes, "that Canadians don't really want to know about unemployment. No part of the country wants to be identified as a depressed area. Nobody wants to be required to learn a new skill. Nobody wants his motives challenged when he applies for unemployment insurance, and not many seem to mind if the fund is being robbed."

Although the recession is unmistakably over, says Fraser, some 234,000 registered as being unemployed in June — about 37 percent of the labor force. But, he reports, many of this country's jobless are that way through choice. Some are seasonal workers content to live off their savings and unemployment insurance benefits during the winter.

Still others, Fraser claims, refuse to leave depressed areas for work in other parts of Canada, thereby unnecessarily swelling the ranks of the unemployed.

The writer doubts whether automation has cost many Canadians their jobs. But it has forced a major change in the labor picture — the need for unskilled workers has been reduced and the demand for better trained, well educated workers increased. "Last spring," Fraser recalls, "we had the anomaly of high unemployment even in well-developed industrial regions, while at the same time employers were feverishly canvassing high schools and business colleges for competent clerical help."

For the first time, the people of British Columbia are invited to participate in, and profit financially from, the development of one of our Province's greatest enterprises. The offering of this bond issue, exclusively in B.C., means also that interest which normally would be paid to people outside the Province will be paid directly to British Columbians.

The PGE is now one of the world's most modern railroads and a vital factor in British Columbia's growth. The three year, 5% bonds of the Pacific Great Eastern Railway that are now being offered are the soundest bond buy on the market — an excellent way to let your savings earn more for you.

INTEREST: Interest at the rate of 5% per annum will be paid quarterly on the 15th day of December, March, June and September during the currency of the bond.

DATE OF ISSUE: September 15, 1959.

DATE OF MATURITY: September 15, 1962.

REDEMPTION: Should you need the money in a hurry, you will be able to cash these bonds at par value at any time you wish, at any bank in the Province of British Columbia and at the principal office of the Canadian Bank of Commerce in Calgary, Edmonton, Regina, Winnipeg, Toronto, Montreal, Saint John, Halifax or St. John's.

LIMIT OF PURCHASE: There is no limit whatsoever to the amount you may purchase.

'Back to school' safely urges safety council

Each year at this time, there is the usual stampede of children back to school. The majority have been through this cycle before, but for many it will be the first time.

Children have the ability to appear anywhere and every where; in the middle of the road, running across crosswalks, hurtling around corners and down driveways with an armful of books and from behind parked cars. There is no way of knowing from where they will come.

Whether they pass this way again depends to a large extent on you - Mr. and Mrs. Motorist. Here is what you can do to help:

- Slow down at all intersections.
- Obey the 15 mile an hour speed limits in the vicinity of schools.
- When you see a child on the curb at a crosswalk or in the road ahead - STOP! Don't guess at what a child will do - YOU COULD GUESS WRONG!
- Slow down when driving down residential streets, particularly where cars are parked on one or both sides.

REMEMBER! Watch for the pre-school children who are left without the older children to supervise and play with them.

Being aware of these important points is only half the battle. The other half is in adjusting your driving habits before it is too late. Parents can help by emphasizing to their children that they are not to run across any road at any intersection, whether they be in a marked crosswalk or not, and that they look both ways, everytime, before crossing a street.

Fight against infant mortality told at PNE

Story of medical science's never ending battle against infant mortality and quest for safer childbirth is being dramatically told at the Pacific National Exhibition.

Burnaby South Kiwanis is co-operating with local medical groups to present a $20,000 exhibit entitled "Safeguarding Motherhood."

The exhibit is located in the Electrical Building during the August 22 to September 7 fair. In picture, story and model it outlines science's research into maternal and infant safety. Some myths about "The Stork" are being corrected. The processes in the birth of a baby will be explained.

And there will even be a display of the latest in maternity clothes.

Book Review

"THE ICE WAS ALL BETWEEN"
by Lieutenant-Commander
T. A. Irvine, R.C.N.

This is the exciting story by a Canadian Naval officer, of the men who navigated the North West Passage, in the famous Royal Canadian Navy icebreaker H.M.C.S. Labrador. They covered 18,000 miles in their 97 days at sea; the Labrador's job was to be the floating platform and the sea-going laboratory from which her scientists could work on research which will enable us to live, work and play in these Queen Elizabeth Islands and the Northwest Territories.

The work was plain hard, with long hours, bad weather and monotony; the survey of the possible transit areas that submarines might use in their passage under the ice; and one of these days in the not too far distant future, ships will ply these waters, bringing out ore and carrying tourists, supplying our northern airports on the short polar route to Europe, and their reward is that what they did, was important to Canada.

Ships will sail safely and on schedule, using the charts and data obtained by H.M.C.S. Labrador and her people, as well as by other ships and the people who preceded and followed her.
